Following the success of last year's training, this is being repeated for teachers who are new to Y2 or for experienced Y2 teachers who have not attended previously.

This training will support delegates to use their writing outcomes from the Autumn term to inform their future planning by taking account of the coverage and progression within text genres and the statutory programmes of the National Curriculum. Examples of planning sequences will be shared to consider a 'best practice' approach to structuring effective planning, teaching and assessment of writing at the end of KS1.
